Civic Dinner Program Full Of Interest

The Civic Association program of Monday night was one of the most enjoyable presented in many months. The combination of music, humor and informative talks was a fitting sequel to the fine dinner served by the ladies of the Parent-Teacher association headed by Mrs. F. L. C. Roess.

President Doty first called on Miss Clara Sykes for a piano solo. The delicate touch and accuracy with which she played intricate passages won a hearty encore.

Mrs. Kreer's first appearance as a soloist in Sierra Madre met with a cordial reception and her audience was not disappointed. Her charming presence and full, rich voice were matched by her song interpretations. Both of her numbers were insistently encored and there was an evident hope on the part of her hearers for future appearances.

James W. Foley introduced as the speaker of the evening admitted he was not taken entirely by surprise as he said he had rather expected to be called on. He promised to recite some of his own good poems and finally did give three of them. But most of his hour was taken up explaining with great good humor how he and the other great men of all ages had arrived at the foundation principles which make life worth living and keep the world growing better instead of worse.

Bond Issues

President George S. Anderson of the school board was called on to tell about the need for the proposed $100,000 school bond issue. He said the present quarters are already filled and the time has arrived for permanent building for the future. It is the hope of the board ultimately to acquire the entire block in which the school plant is located, beginning at once with the large lot at the corner of Auburn and Grand View. The beginning of a class C structure on a unit plan is proposed, the first units to contain an auditorium to seat 1,000 people, and a number of class rooms. He said the board has architects at work preparing plans for building and grounds which will be available for public consideration before the date of the school election.

Water superintendent Tom Henderson presented maps showing the possible sources of water supply and the city distributing system as recommended by Engineer Willis S. Jones. The city has an abundant supply, he said, if the proposed $80,000 bond issue is voted to provide an adequate distributing system. The plans will take care of the high foothill section and the big area in the northwest part of town which is now without water, or has a meager and intermittent supply.

WILSON WILL GIVE RECITAL NEXT MONTH

Gilbert Wilson, whose splendid baritone voice has been heard with pleasure on one or two occasions in Sierra Madre, has been secured for an evening of song, to be given Friday, April 4, in the Woman's Club house. Mr. Wilson's voice is sometimes classified as a "basso cantante," and is of very pleasing quality. He has had the best of training and experience as a concert and grand opera singer. The program on April 4th will be given under the auspices of the Congregational Ladies' Aid society for the benefit of the church building fund. Mr. Wilson's accompaniments will be played by Mrs. George B. Morgridge.

Frank Fraiberg of Santa Monica is spending the week in Sierra Madre, trying to get rid of a severe cold. He says his jewelry business at the beach city has been prospering wonderfully but it is mighty good to get back to Sierra Madre and enjoy his restful quarters at Cypress Court.

TOMORROW IS LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER

Voters who wish to have a hand in selecting city officials for the coming year and express their opinion on the proposed extension of the cemetery zone will have to register by Saturday, March 15. The city election will be held on April 15, and registrations must close 30 days in advance. All voters automatically lost their vote on last Dec. 31. The only way to get it back is to register again. Mrs. Mary R. White is the registration deputy for Sierra Madre city and may be found at her residence, 55 East Laurel avenue.

COAT STOLEN WHILE OWNER TURNS AROUND

Tom Henderson was separated from his best overcoat Wednesday. The coat was stolen from his car while he wasn't looking. It disappeared so quickly it almost made his head swim.

He drove up in front of a wholesale house on Third street, stepped inside the door to leave a water meter, and when he went to get into the car the coat was gone. First he was mad clear through. Then he laughed when he thought how lucky he was that the thief didn't take the Oakland which he left standing with the key in the lock. Then he got mad again when he thought of the thief taking his best coat and hocking it for a measly five spot. He doesn't feel very good about it yet.

Bond Issues To Be Topic for Meeting

The Chamber of Commerce is arranging for a public meeting to be held in Woman's club house on Saturday evening, March 22. At that time a detailed and thorough presentation of the necessity for the water and school bonds will be made.

Willis S. Jones, the engineering expert whose survey of the water situation in this city resulted in the decision by the City Trustees to issue bonds, will explain why the extensions are needed and how the money is to be spent. City Engineer Henry Gierlich will also be present to answer any questions as to details of the work within the city. The committee in charge is not able to say at this time who will speak on the school bonds, but by that time the plans of the proposed improvements and map of the land to be acquired will be in such shape that they can be displayed and a clear, concise statement of the needs of the school today and in the near future will be given.

Mr. Hugh R. Pomeroy, secretary of the Regional Planning Conference, of Los Angeles County, will give a short talk on the proposed extension westward of Central avenue to join North Orange Grove in Pasadena.

Every voter is urged to be present at this meeting. These matters have been discussed somewhat at Chamber of Commerce luncheons and at Civic Association dinners, but these speakers will cover ground not before touched on and it will be the best opportunity to get the final authoritative facts before going to the polls on March 28 and April first.

SERVICES ARE WELL ATTENDED

The interested audiences keep on growing at Bethany Temple, where Rev. E. P. Lyon of Pasadena is preaching each Sunday morning and evening. Next Sunday his sermon topics will be "The Careless Watchers," and "A Problem Solved and a Man Saved." With the opening of the new building for the primary department of the Sunday school the crowded condition has been relieved and the work of the whole school given more satisfactory arrangement.

Local Artists to Broadcast Next Friday

Sierra Madre will be "on the air" from KFI, the Radio Central Station, Los Angeles, through the courtesy of the Los Angeles Examiner, Friday evening, March 25. The program, which has been arranged by the Civic association, will be given from 9 to 10 o'clock.

In order to permit the largest possible number of "home folks" to listen in on the program, arrangements have been made to install a receiving set with loud speaker at the Woman's club house, to which the public is invited without charge. This is made possible through the courtesy of G. I. Farman of the Sierra Madre Electric Co.

The complete program to be broadcast will be as follows:

Song—Sierra Madre.
Address by Robert Mitchell, Mayor of Sierra Madre.

Dramatic Songs, Mrs. Gertrude Lieben, contralto, accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Hill Morgridge, "Death and the Maiden," (Schubert), "Stride la Vampa," (Il Trovatore) Verdi.

EASTERN STAR MEETING MONDAY

Next Monday night Sierra Madre Chapter No. 290, O. E. S., will hold its regular meeting. Several candidates will be initiated. Visiting members of the order are given a cordial invitation to attend and get acquainted. A social hour will follow the chapter meeting.

MANUAL ARTS EXHIBIT FROM HIGH SCHOOL

Under supervision of Director W. W. Martin of the Pasadena High school manual arts department, an exhibit of the work of the pupils was placed yesterday in the window of the Sierra Madre Hardware Co. Examples of work from the pattern shop, the forge department, the machine shop and the wood working shop are shown.

Most of the work represents class projects and the working out of problems by groups. One of the handsome pieces, however, is a beautifully made cedar chest, the work of Herbert Munson of Sierra Madre.

This exhibit is placed so that the people of Sierra Madre may know something of the variety of work done in the high school. It is the plan of the high school faculty to present exhibits of other departments in various parts of the district from time to time for the information of the public.

WORK IS AGAIN GOING FORWARD ON NEW HOTEL

After another brief lapse, work on the new hotel building is going ahead with the installation of conduits for the electric wiring. A shipment of lath was also delivered on Thursday with the evident intention of pushing plastering as soon as the electrical installation will permit.

Forest Fire School To Be Held Monday

Forestry schools for the primary purpose of teaching the elements of fire protection will be conducted twice a month through cooperation of the Federal Forest Service and the Angelus Forest Protective association.

The first session will take place next Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce, Pasadena. Fred W. Funke will be the instructor, and District Ranger Thomas W. Sloan is cooperating.

Marshal A. M. Udell, who is local fire agent, will attend and be accompanied by five local men. Regular meetings will be held on the first and third Mondays.

Mr. Udell and Tom Henderson attended the meeting of the Angelus Association in Pomona last week, and Sierra Madre is now a member of the association. The association is organizing for a strenuous season by reason of the acute fire danger in the mountains.

Berg Chosen To Fill Post of Secretary

L. D. Berg, a resident of Sierra Madre for several months, has been chosen secretary of the Chamber of Commerce by the board of directors and is now in charge of the office. Mr. Berg has had considerable experience in organization work and is a confirmed Sierra Madre booster. He will devote all his time to the work, and is at present getting things lined up for a membership campaign to be undertaken soon with the cooperation of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McKinley are moving today to Long Beach, where they will make their home. Mr. McKinley has retained his law business there while the family have been residing in Sierra Madre. They will be greatly missed in several fields of activity.

Miss Alice Elsner had as week end guests Misses Anna Schmidbauer and Olive and Helen Hannum of Los Angeles. Saturday was spent by a delightful hike to Orchard Camp.

Wistaria Vine Drawing Big Crowds Daily

With the famous Wistaria Vine at Scenic Point in full, rich bloom, perfect weather, the hills mantling with green following the recent rains, everything was favorable for the opening of the Wistaria Fete yesterday.

The fame of the vine has been so broadcasted that the straggling visitors of previous days developed into a steady stream. There was every promise of throngs to come within the fortnight.

Program Schedule
Each day, March 13th to 28th, luncheon will be served from 11:30. Tea in the afternoon.

Miss Sherdina Aston brings from Los Angeles a group of ladies who will give musical programs each afternoon.

Sunday, March 16, Mrs. R. A. Spencer of Hollywood, daughter of Mrs. Boradale) piano solos.

Monday, March 17, Mrs. F. L. Bicknell, president of the Los Angeles Audubon society, will give a talk on "Birds," at 2:30.

Friday, March 21, evening, Radio Concert, club house.

Saturday, March 22, Movie Day—Miss Marion Smithson, violinist.

Sunday, March 23, Fay Palmer Kreer of Pittsburg, Pa., contralto; Miss Frona Clark of Los Angeles, pianist.

Wednesday, March 26, Ezra Racklin of Los Angeles, pianist.

Friday, March 28, Wistaria ball.

A "States' Societies' Day to be announced later.

The Wistaria Fete is not an affair for the club alone. All of Sierra Madre is to share in its blessings and all Sierra Madre is hoping for its success.

Club Women Ask Helpers

One who goes up n the hill and sees the wealth of lavender bloom is entranced and to work under the spreading vine cannot help but give pleasure. The committee chairmen have outlined their work but they lack helpers. Mrs. Walker, Red 87, in charge of the kitchen, needs help, and Mrs. Bacon, Black 40, who will serve the luncheon and teas, needs waitresses. Volunteers are asked to telephone to either Mrs. Walker or Mrs. Bacon and offer services for as many days as possible. This is far more than a woman's club affair and the fact that one is not a member of the club need not stand in the way of helping at this time.

Miss Jean Woodward, in charge of the flower table, needs flowers as well as helpers. Let her know if you have flowers, or if you can help.

The taxi service to the Fennel place will be of the best. All of the drivers are prepared to make half hourly trips from 9:30 on and of course will meet the street cars to bring any of the visitors who come that way.

The Boy Scouts are preparing a parking place and they will benefit by the parking fees; also will help with the traffic problems.

The teachers and school children are to come over to the vine on Monday afternoon which is Audubon day, to hear Mrs. Bicknell's excellent talk.

SECOND DEGREE NEXT TUESDAY

Work in the Fellowcraft degree is scheduled for next Tuesday night by Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. & A. M. The lodge hall is on the second floor of the Woman's club house and because of the number of candidates meetings are being held regularly, every Tuesday night. As there are always many visiting Masons in town at this time of year a cordial invitation is extended to them by the master, E. L. Yerxa.

There will be no meeting of the Congregational Ladies' Aid Society on the regular date next Tuesday on account of the Wistaria fete. Many of the ladies are cooperating in the club activities, and the rest wish to attend as they are able.

SEPTIC TANKS ARE FAVORED BY OFFICIALS

The importance and interest in the question of rural sewage disposal was evidenced by the large number of people in attendance at the septic tank construction demonstration held near El Monte recently.

Because of the rapid subdivision and settlement the necessity of keeping the underground water supply pure has become a matter of vital importance. The modern, easily constructed septic tank is replacing the old fashioned and dangerous cesspool and eliminates the contaminating discharge into the lower underground strata.

The cost of material for one of these tanks averages about $35.00. Installation is not difficult.

The demonstration announced for San Dimas on Friday, March 14, has been postponed until some time in April. The date will be announced later.

What Junior College Plan Would Mean

Pasadena High School district, which includes South Santa Anita and Sierra Madre elementary school districts, will vote March 28th on the question of establishing a junior college. In order that the voters of this vicinity may be fully informed on the issue, this paper is presenting a series of articles by Principal William F. Ewing of Pasadena high school, telling the story of the junior high school system. The third article follows:

In California, under the 1919 law, the junior college is an important part of the high school and receives the same state and county aid as the high school of which it is a part. The school law of 1917 provided that a high school board in any district having an assessed valuation of $3,000,000 or more, can by resolution of the board establish post-graduate or junior college courses for their high schools. Under the 1917 law many high school boards could easily establish junior colleges in connection with their high schools.

State Aid

The new junior college law of 1921 does not repeal the 1917 law but provides new features, viz: state aid of $100 per year for each junior college student in average daily attendance, tuition for non-resident students, and $2000 to the junior college district for the establishment of a junior college. It also provides for affiliation with the University of California.

Under the 1921 law the high school district wishing to establish a junior college must meet the following requirements:

1. An average daily attendance of 400 students.
2. A tax valuation of $10,000,000.
3. An average daily attendance of 75 junior college students in order to maintain its standing.

For financial reasons it is obviously an advantage to a high school district to organize its junior college under the new law.

Subjects Taught

As to curricula offered in junior colleges:

Dr. Koon found that the subjects most frequently offered in public junior colleges were science, modern foreign languages, social studies, commerce, English, engineering and industry. The subjects most frequently prescribed were English, social studies, physical education and science.

The 1921 law for California public junior colleges reads, "Junior colleges; and such courses of instruction designed to prepare for higher institutions of learning; courses of instruction designed to prepare persons for agricultural, industrial, commercial, home making, and other vocations; and such courses of instruction as may be deemed necessary to provide for the civic and liberal education of the community."

Change now to the brand that never changes and you'll never change again.

In formulating the above provisions, the State Board of Education has adopted the following resolutions submitted by the High School Principals' association:

Adult Vocational Work

1. That all junior colleges offer the three following types of courses:

(a) The junior certificate course for recommended graduates of high schools;

(b) The junior college course open to all graduates of high schools regardless of recommendation; this course to stress health, citizenship, and home-making.

(c) Vocational courses open to any one over 18 years of age; this course to conform to community occupational needs.

2. That the State Board of Education authorize the issuance of junior college diplomas to those who have completed sixty-four hours of junior college subjects which shall include the following:

Subject A. University of California, no credit.

English, six hours.

Physical education and health, four hours.

Social science, six hours.

Science or mathematics, six hours.

An arrangement of courses so as to show 20 hours of work in one department.

From the provisions just quoted, it may be seen that California public junior colleges are open to high school graduates whether recommended or not. Non-high school graduates may be admitted, provided they are 18 years of age and wish to pursue vocational courses.

ON HORSEBACK TRIP THROUGH BIBLE LANDS

"A horseback Ride Through Palestine" will be the subject of talk next Sunday night at the Congregational church and it will be illustrated by lantern slides. Dr. Kennigott of Los Angeles is a fluent speaker and a wide traveller. He comes with a free lecture and the church invites the whole community to share this splendid lecture with them.

At the morning service Dr. Tate will take for his subject, "Beware of Softness." The Congregational church is a community church and its work and interests are community wide. Come and spend the day with us and enlarge your friendships.

—W. A. T.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Lieben entertained a few friends at dinner Sunday evening, which was followed by an evening of music. The guests included Miss Slenner of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Jones of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. H. Randolph Wood, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Morgridge and Miss Schultz.

Making Bolsheviks

Bolsheviks and I. W. W.'s are serious menaces to the nation, but we ought to know just how it comes that there is an increase in the number of people who have no respect for constituted authority.

It comes largely from the dishonesty of Big Business; from men who are willing to bribe public servants in order to defraud the government or take money away from other people. If men high in the business and social world can defeat the law with impunity, why shouldn't the little fellow have the same opportunity?

The scandals at Washington furnish the germs of Bolshevism. Teapot Dome and the frauds now being unearthed have done more to undermine respect for law than all the burglars and forgers in America.—Hemet News.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

MRS. E. H. CARPENTER
Press Chairman

The regular club meeting of March 12 was a more or less informal one, no program being given. It was really a lovely birthday party to celebrate the 17th anniversary of the club. Each club member was asked to bring pennies to the number of her years and there were twelve lovely birthday cakes which were served at tables over which charter members presided.

The January table (Miss Webster) had as a centerpiece a darling new year's kewpie in a giant snowball. February (Mrs. C. H. Baker) had the hatchet and the bit of cherry tree. March (Mrs. Vannier) showed a shamrock and a significant top hat. On the April table (Mrs. Osgood) a dear little bunny sat enthroned. May (Mrs. I. M. Ward) was represented by its Maypole. June (Mrs. L. E. Steinberger) was significant of Flag Day. July (Mrs. J. C. Dickson) had a giant firecracker. August (Mrs. Alice Staples Sokol) a small sized battle boat in a miniature canal, for it was in August that the canal was opened. California's Admission Day is celebrated in September so a black bear and a horn of plenty adorned the September table over which Mrs. Andrews presided. The Santa Maria sailed the sea on October's table (Mrs. Dietz). November (Mrs. Caley) was represented by a pumpkin fine and firm and December's table (Miss Elizabeth Steinberger) bore a lovely Christmas tree.

A lovely party in token of esteem to the beloved president emeritus, Mrs. Osgood. During the tea hour one of the charter members read the following delightful poem which she had written in the still hours of the night. It was an earnest request that her name be not given but you may have heard it anyway.

Caroline Osgood, mother of all
Gathered us together in the old town hall.

Her heart was brave, her vision bright
And we promised to work both day and night.

The hall was large, the kitchen small;
We served Spanish dinners, and an evening ball.

The stairs were steep and hard to climb;
We carried the dishes one at a time.

But when we had reached some eighty strong
We knew it was time we should move along.

So eighteen women with courage of old
Started this building you now behold.

There were breakers behind, there are breakers ahead
But then, you know, it has often been said

That strength united is sure to win.

And now comes the test of our women's vim.

It seems to me as I look ahead,
There is nothing to fear, there is nothing to dread.

If one with another will help on the way,

Then we shall soon feel the Peace of a Perfect Day.

If the club members who were not present will send their birthday pennies to Mrs. Steinberger she will add them to those received and forward our quota. Only about half the required amount has come in.

Department Work

The Drama department meetings are held regularly the first and third Mondays of each month. The meeting scheduled for Monday, March 17, will be omitted on account of activities at the Fennel place.

The Shakespeare pageant is to be repeated at the district convention in Glendale, Wednesday evening, April 9. Automobiles will be needed to convey the cast and costumes to Glendale. Volunteers please notify Mrs. Glenwood Jones, Black 20.

Many of the members of Mrs. Osgood's class are busy at the Wistaria vine so the meetings of the Parliamentary Law, Civil Government and Current Events classes will be postponed until April 2.

Members of the club and any people of Sierra Madre who are interested in the scheme of advertising which is being carried on through the Wistaria poster, please call at Mrs. Mesecar's office and leave a quarter to help finance this. The expense is being borne by the Civic association and the Woman's Club together and voluntary donations will be very acceptable.

The Wistaria ball on March 28 promises to be a very lovely party and it is hoped that the enthusiastic dancers, young and old, will come to the club house to make it a real success. Miss Ruth Klemme is chairman and the chaperones are to be Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. Gerald Farman, Mrs. Spencer Howard, Mrs. Liggitt and Mrs. Tarr.

MINIATURES AT PASADENA

The seventh annual exhibition of California Society of Miniature Painters, arranged for Biltmore Salon, has been transferred to the Hotel Vista Del Arroyo, Pasadena, for this week. Sierra Madre people are particularly interested in this exhibit as Miss Ella Shepard Bush of 223 West Laurel is secretary of the society and one of the exhibitors.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Morgridge had as dinner guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Peterson of Durango, Colo., Mrs. O. E. Fowble of South Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Peterson, Miss Hortense Peterson and Jane Harriet Seager of San Bernardino and Mrs. Hortense Hill.

TYPE MAKERS AND SELLERS

The whole office force almost had to take a day off the other day on the arrival of the new specimen book of the American Type Founders Co. This big volume, appearing about once in ten years, marks the milestones in the progress of typography.

Mr. Average Reader is conscious of improvement in appearance of printed matter from time to time without realizing just why. The printer knows it is chiefly due to the improvement in the design and use of type faces.

Mr. Average Reader will distinguish the beauties of the different type faces most strikingly in the advertising display of the modern magazine and in miscellaneous printed matter. The differences extend to the smaller types known as "body types" in solid reading matter, but are not so readily noticed.

Who Makes the Type?

This matter of type design is important. Thirty years ago the type foundry, who were then numerous, were having an orgy of inventing new type faces. The results were comparable to the worst period of gingerbread architecture. Since that time the American Type Founders Co. has absorbed or witnessed the passing of practically all other important type making establishments. During the same time there has been a realization that the old type foundry of 150 years ago had laid the real foundations of type design. Freak letter faces have been forgotten. The tendency has been back to the work of Caslon, Bodoni, Garamond, and the old gothic and text letters. The best work of modern type makers has been in perfecting those old designs with scientific exactness, harmonizing the original with an italic, a condensed letter and a bold face so that the whole "family" makes possible a typographic design in perfect artistic taste.

Making Type Readable

The American Type Founders Co. has led the world in placing the best of typographic materials at the disposal of the printer, and has gone further in educating printers how to use it. The improvement in modern printing has been due more to this matter of typographic design than to any other factor. Advances in machine composition and in presswork have been toward more rapid production rather than in beauty and legibility. The American Type Founders Co. is sometimes referred to as "the trust," meaning a trade monopoly. Whatever basis there may be for the implication, the fact remains that the company renders a service that is worth paying for.

The Personal Touch

To printers in Southern California a reference to the "A. T. F." brings up a mental picture of the genial face of Roy O. Shadinger, these many years manager of the Los Angeles branch. A printer apprenticed in the old "hand set" days, he went clear through the University of Hard Knocks. Now he retains the sympathetic heart that gives the least important craftsman as easy approach as the most important figure in the industry. He is the only executive of a big wholesale house in Los Angeles who keeps his desk out in the open, without screens or partitions, where he can exchange greetings with all who come or go. That spirit of cordial good will and customer interest extends throughout his force of assistants. A man who can't show that spirit and give efficient service as well doesn't seem to stay on the payroll.

Invariable square dealing has won for Mr. Shadinger the deep respect as well as the affectionate regard of a multitude of printers. For he will go to the limit to help a man who is square. Long may he linger at that desk by the front door of 121 North Broadway.

TEMPLE TIMES SPECIAL ISSUE

With a finely illustrated edition of 12 pages and 5,000 copies, the Temple Times makes its bow to the public this week. The Temple Times represents a town only a few months old and yet in the making, but the paper is a full fledged and legally established publication, continuing the San Gabriel Valley News, with DeWitt T. Jones as editor and manager. It is issued from the plant of the Sierra Madre News pending the installation of a plant at the new Town of Temple.

This paper is only another indication of the enterprising spirit of the new Town of Temple, which lies directly south of Sierra Madre, running west of Baldwin avenue and bisected by the extension of the Alhambra car line. Many miles of street improvement, about 100 houses and a number of store buildings are under erection all at the same time and it takes almost a daily visit to keep up with developments. The Temple Townsite Co. includes Walter P. Temple, a member of the Temple family which has been closely identified with California history for many years, Milton Kauffman of Los Angeles, and George H. Woodruff of Sierra Madre Villa.

MUSIC of the Day

Lucrazia Bori Sings Two Waltzes—Cello Records by Hugo Kreisler

Waltzes abound on this week's record program. Leading the review comes Lucrazia Bori, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, with two familiar but none the less delightful melodies of Italian origin. "Crisibitina" is almost too well known for comment, except that we have never heard it more engagingly sung than on this record. "Il Bacio" (The Kiss) was originally composed for Adelina Patti. We have never heard her sing it, but we are glad that we can hear Bori do so.

Hugo Kreisler takes up his bow to set down in permanent form two famous waltzes arranged for his cello. Fritz Kreisler, recently returned from abroad, accompanies him at the piano. "Liebesleid" is a famous Viennese classic, reminiscent of Franz Schubert. Drigo's "Serenade" sounds particularly well from Hugo's cello.

"Black Face" Eddie Ross rings the banjo for a pair of records of his own original composing, the banjo being abetted in its efforts by Ross Gorman's saxophone and a piano. "Ross' Ju Ju Man" and "Ross' Florida Cracker" would belong to the old-fashioned American school, were they not the work of a very present and living personality. This week Henry Burr shares a record with a new Victor artist, Franklyn Baur, a church and concert singer from Brooklyn. Both tenor solos are pathetic in style, Burr singing "Little Pal of Long Ago" in a way certain to delight his audience. "If the Best of the World Don't Want You" displays Baur's voice effectively. Both are in waltz-time.

Four Fox Trots and Two Waltzes

The Troubadours show something new in dance results with two waltzes wherein they combine the jazz rhythm with the smoothness of the waltz. "Tripping Along" and "Arizona Stars" are unusual dance records.

Paul Whiteman makes two splendid records with the usual surprises this genius always packs. "So This Is Venice" has a vocal refrain by an "English tourist," and an accordion playing "The Carnival of Venice." If that isn't unusual, what is? "Learn to Do the Strut" is the unnecessary title of the second record—the music is invitation enough.

There are two snappy selections this week by Waring's Pennsylvanians. They are full of life and go, hence they are adapted to the fox trot of 1924.

Irish World: Struck by the notice "Iron Sinks" in a shop window, a wag went inside and said that he was perfectly aware of the fact that "iron sinks."

The shop keeper retorted: "Yes, and time flies, but wine vaults, sulphur springs, jam rolls, grass slopes, music stands, Niagara falls, moonlight walks, sheep run, Kent hops and holiday trips, scandal spreads, standard weights, India rubber tires, the organ stops, the world goes round, trade returns, and—"

The marriage of Mr. Ernest Rust of 196 Canyon avenue, Sierra Madre, to Miss Fleta Bisbee of Covina was solemnized Sunday afternoon in the presence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bisbee and her brother, Mr. William Bisbee, by the Reverend G. W. Utter at the parsonage in Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Caley of 232 Ramona had as guests the early part of the week Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith of Elyria, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Will Swyer and Frank Feller of Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. George Gwinn and Mr. Joseph Manix of Pasadena, and Mr. and Mrs. James Tears and Mrs. Bishop of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Adams entertained about 26 young people Tuesday night at their home on N. Hermosa. The Sierra Madre guests were: Misses Camilla Emery, Mary Brains, Marjorie Robbins, Messrs. Hans Siefert, Enos Emery and Herbert Emery, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Steinberger. The evening was spent at games and dancing. Lovely refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and their son, George Jr., of East Montecito were pleasantly surprised on Sunday last by the appearance of Mr. Smith's brother, Mr. Edward Smith, who hails from Rhode Island, the former home of both the brothers. En route Mr. Smith, who understands landscape gardening as does Mr. George Smith, stopped off for six weeks' stay in Berryville, Ark., with Mr. Ingraham, the grandfather of little George. The surprise was not total, as both mother and son had gathered from letters which had been received that the uncle was in Berryville, but because the interval between the news seeping out and the hoped for arrival had grown wearisomely long, they had about given up hope of Mr. Edwards' coming. So they decided to tell his brother the very day that the telegram announcing his train for Sunday appeared, that he wasn't coming. Every one was just as happy and the welcome none the less hearty than had they been sure.

WISTARIA HAS FINE PROGRAM COMING WEEK

Considerable variety is offered on the screen programs at the Wistaria theater for the coming week. For Saturday matinee and evening Richard Talmadge in "Watch Him Step" is the attraction. This younger member of a famous family is rapidly coming to the front. In this rollicking farce comedy drama you will feel like holding onto your seat for safety as you watch him leap, fall, dive, and jump through five reels.

"Slave of Desire" is the attraction for Sunday matinee and Monday evening. George Walsh, Bessie Love and Carmel Myers give a wonderful portrayal of this gripping Balzac story.

In "Hungry Hearts," which comes Tuesday and Wednesday evenings the fans will see Bryant Washburn, Helen Ferguson and Rose Rosanova portray the story of a Russian family which came to the land of the free, only to be exploited by another foreigner, who had come sooner and learned the tricks and the power of money. How the nephew of their oppressor helped them out and romance was realized forms the climax of the story.

When Jackie Coogan comes again there is sure to be a full house. This time it will be "Circus Days," on Thursday and Friday nights. It will be as good as a real circus, without the drawbacks of circus attendance.

NEWS WANTADS FOR QUICK RETURNS

Position Of Power Co. On Colo. Project

Appearing before the House Committee on Irrigation of Arid Lands, R. H. Ballard of Los Angeles, vice president and general manager of the Southern California Edison Company, for many years president of the National Electric Light association, and a member of the Franklin Institute of Pennsylvania to which he was elected in 1919 for distinguished service in the electrical profession, stated that he wished to deny the charge that power companies are opposing the appropriation of government funds for the construction of a dam on the Colorado river for the purpose of flood control and electric power generation.

Mr. Ballard said that the Edison company was not opposing the bill introduced by Representative Swing which the committee had been considering, and to his knowledge it was not being opposed by any other company. He said that witnesses appearing in favor of the bill now under consideration of the committee had charged him with statements he did not make, and had drawn unwarranted and unjustified conclusions from the things he had said. Mr. Ballard's statement was in brief as follows:

"The Imperial valley of California is entitled to protection from the menace of floods caused by the erratic flow of this international stream and all of the potential electric capacity of the river should be developed. The entire development will be needed in the course of time to serve the requirements of the seven southwest states in the Colorado basin. If the government will start this development by providing funds for the construction of the first dam, we are prepared to make electrical installations and generally distribute power throughout the whole territory to municipalities, industries, farms and domestic consumers under jurisdiction of the United States government and regulation by the state regulating commissions. If for any reason it is found inexpedient for the government to make this appropriation, we are prepared for the whole job. Development by the company would be under the terms of the Federal Water Power Act providing for a limited tenure of fifty years with the right of the government at the end of the period to take over the property at cost and determined by the Federal Power commission under the Cost Accounting System which the commission has established.

California Enterprise
"The Southern California Edison company is a California corporation engaged exclusively in the business of generating and distributing electricity as a public utility. It operates in ten counties throughout Southern and Central California, serving more than 250,000 consumers directly, and through wholesale contracts with the City of Los Angeles and other Southern California municipalities it serves indirectly an additional 150,000 consumers.

"Its present installed capacity is more than 500,000 horsepower and its total assets exceed $189,000,000. Its present outstanding capital stock is $63,500,000 and bonds outstanding amount to $102,000,000. Since the resumption of normal business after the signing of the Armistice in 1918 the company's expenditures for new development have been $118,000,000 and its present expenditures for new development exceed $26,000,000 a year.

"The company is distinctly a community enterprise, its stock being held by 68,000 individual stockholders, 90 per cent of whom reside in the territory served and are consumers of the company's product, and this number is increasing at the rate of 15,000 a year. Ninety-eight per cent of its employees are stockholders. Its officers are all residents of the district it serves and all but two of the directors reside in Los Angeles county."

"The Eternal City" Is Colorful Drama

Highly colorful is a feature at the Colonial Theater, Monrovia, next week—and exceptionally dramatic. It is "The Eternal City," a First National picture produced by George Fitzmaurice and presented by Samuel Goldwyn, with Barbara La Marr, Lionel Barrymore, Bert Lytell, Richard Bennett and Montagu Love in the leading roles.

While the production is noted chiefly for its thrilling story, which was written by Sir Hall Caine, the acting of its brilliant cast and its perfect direction, it is particularly colorful in its settings and contrasts.

This "dramatic gem of a decade," as it has been described by one critic, was filmed entirely in Italy, most of the scenes being taken in the city of Rome. In the background are visible vistas of extraordinary beauty, the beauty that can be found only in that sunny land. Not only are the rare landscapes, with their mountains, rivers and wealth of foliage on view, but the panorama of the camera has caught many of the ruins for which Italy is noted. There is the Appian Way, the Coliseum with its crumbling walls, the Roman Baths, the Forum and many other spots mentioned in history.

CITRUS TREE PRUNING WILL BE EXPLAINED

In order to study the successful practices connected with pruning different types of citrus trees, the Agricultural Extension Service, co-operating with the citrus growers' department of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau, is planning a Field Day to take place some time in April.

The principal citrus growing districts of the county will be visited, and different aged orchards of oranges, lemons and grapefruit will be inspected and the methods and results of pruning studied. Details of the trip will be announced later.

But seems to me each one I try
Comes out a different way.

That statement's true, I know quite well.

MUSICAL RECITAL TELLS STORY OF BRAVE STRUGGLE

Next Tuesday night at the Ebell Club auditorium in Los Angeles there will be a concert I should like to attend. It will be given in part by Arthur F. Fuller, a man worth knowing. Fiat on his back for 20 years or more because of spine trouble, he has made his own way in the world by selling merchandise, including his own books and music, and by giving recitals occasionally.

I used to see Fuller 18 years ago on the streets of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Many News readers will remember seeing him on the streets in Los Angeles in the little wagon where he reclined and sold his wares, always with a smile and a word of cheer.

Mr. Fuller was formerly a professional musician and composer, and has not lost his voice or his technique, according to the musical critics. With a specially made reclining wheel chair he is able to perform at the grand piano, and his program also includes vocal and whistling numbers by himself. Other artists appearing with him next Tuesday night are Cyrus C. Johnson, author and reader; Lillian Althouse, saxophone; Livonia Somes and Helen Ward, whistlers; Grace Trowbridge Cox and Florence Joy, accompanists. Tickets sell for 25c to $1 and may be obtained in advance by addressing Mr. Fuller's residence, 3646 Trinity St., Los Angeles.—G. B. M.

MR. EWING COMING

Under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher association another meeting will be held in the Kindergarten building Monday evening, March 24. At this meeting Principal William F. Ewing of Pasadena high school will speak. The proposed establishment of a junior college district, the high school district bonds and the elementary school bonds will be discussed. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to come and get accurate information on these topics.
